CAPE COD COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Hyannis, Massachusetts

Intro

The buildings which now house Cape Cod Community College were built in 1897 as the State Normal School. Since then they have been the home of several institutions of higher learning.

In 1960 these structures became Cape Cod Community College. From its infancy this new institution has been nourished by the efforts of those who really believed in it. Its present success and promising future prove that those dedicated people were rewarded in their faith.

A note about the name of our yearbook:

We derived the name Foreseer from the abbreviation of Cape Cod Community College, but to us it has a deeper meaning. We are all foreseers, because we must look to the future.

E. Carlton Nickerson

The class of 1964 is proud to dedicate this year-book to E. Carlton Nickerson, whose unswerving devotion and friendly cheerfulness have been an inspiration to the entire college.

We would like to congratulate Mr. Nickerson on his appointment to the office of president of the college. He has truly been one of the pioneer figures at Cape Cod Community College, and this brings with him to his new office a knowledge and experience which will be invaluable as he helps shape its future. We are confident that, under his leadership, this future will be bright.

The Deans

DEAN OF MEN

Dean W. Douglas Mitchell is a graduate of Hiram College and earned his M.A. and M.F.A. degrees at Western Reserve University. He was associated with Hiram College for many years. At Cape Cod Community College not only is he Dean of Men but also advisor to College Transfer students and faculty member in Art and Speech.

DEAN OF STUDENTS

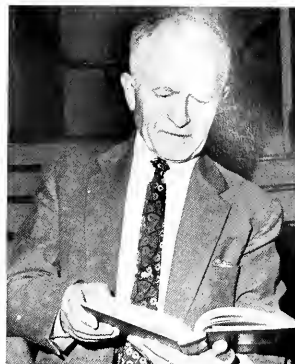

Dean Elinor E. Hanna comes to Cape Cod Community College from an impressive list of positions in secondary and higher education. With B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from New York University, Dean Hanna is a faculty member in Psychology. Her firm but friendly guidance and her realistic appreciation of student problems are indeed an asset to the college.

Changing of

On December 11, the college and the community honored Dr. Irving H. Bartlett, who resigned his position as president of the college to accept a post as head of the history department at Carnegie Tech. It was his leadership and guidance that made Cape Cod Community College what it is now. The Students of 4C's presented Dr. Bartlett with an attache' case as a token of their gratitude. The community, too, grateful for what the college has done for its prestige, sent representatives to proffer their thanks.

The Watch

Now we look ahead to the administration of our new president, E. Carlton Nickerson, as he takes his turn at the watch. In his hands we place the future of our college, confident of even greater success. Dean Nickerson was formally installed as President Nickerson in a ceremony held in the Barnstable High School auditorium on March 8, 1964.

OFFICERS

David Rumney	Treasurer
Andrew Milk	Co-Chairman
Micheal Bachman	Co-Chairman
Edward Wilhelms	Personal Manager
Dennis Machado	Secretary

Carrying on the tradition of the four men who united to form a service club in the spring of 1961, Phi Delta Psi has continued to promote "better understanding between students," and "community service to all."

With this objective in mind, the present members set out this year to obtain the goal set by their brothers.

Among the various projects carried out by the club were several successful dances and community projects, including a lead drive for the Handicraft Workshop.

We, the members of Phi Delta Psi, wish to express our sincerest wishes for success to the class of '64.

 ADVISOR

The eleven original members who organized this group, which is primarily a service group to the college and the community chose to call themselves the "Cappas." Dr. Elinor Hanna has acted as faculty sponsor for the girls since a charter was issued to the club in November, 1961.

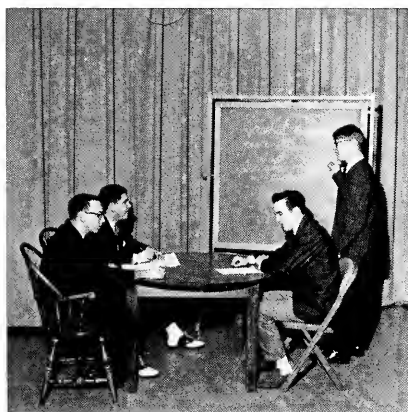

In September, ten sophomore members held an initiation for freshman and sophomore girls wishing to join the club. After the initiation the club started on its initial project, which was to help at the second Open House that the college held early in October. At this function, the girls served as hostesses and guides to the visitors. The club has worked at various school functions which included a dance on February 14 called the Cupid Caper. In March, the Cappas began volunteer work at the Cape Cod Hospital. The Club's new members put on a food sale, and over $40.00 was raised.

Officers for the club are Lydia Almedia, president; Sharon Gordon, vice president; Joan Richards, treasurer; and Patricia Di Pietro, secretary.

The Mug Club was the first service club established at Cape Cod Community College. In the 1963-1964 year Ed Woolley served ably as President, while classmates Barry Johnson, Vice President; Ron Caron, Treasurer; and Ed Ormston, Secretary, served as equally efficient leaders.

This year the Mug Club sponsored an autumn dance which was successful and most enjoyable. It was held in the Commons with seasonal decorations.

As the sophomore year commenced, Mug Club held an open house for the incoming freshmen who were interested in joining this young men's organization. Hell Week, or initiation week, was held in November for those new students who chose to become members. A dance ended all of the festivities for the week, as the freshmen were made official Mug Club Members.

This sophomore year was also spent in putting the service club's goals into action. Its members concerned themselves with student aid and the development of interest in college functions.

The Foreseer

The staff for the second issue of the FORESEER set bravely about its tasks sometime in October, under the watchful eye of Mr. Warner. There is no need here to recount the hard work and heartache which goes into putting together a yearbook—the scrambling for ads, pictures, patrons; the agonizing rush to meet deadlines; the struggle to balance the books and keep everybody happy. Let it be sufficient to say that all concerned will be satisfied if you the readers are pleased with their efforts.

Mr. Devoe explains

layout to the group.

Under the patient and invaluable direction of Mr. Peter Hartley, the Beacon staff this year carried on traditionally in that each issue printed was the result of conscientious effort sparked by unfailing interest in expressing the voice of the students. This year the Beacon was honored at Greenfield when it was chosen the most outstanding newspaper of the six community colleges. Certainly we are most proud of our staff members and their notable achievement.

Newman Club

The Newman Movement is a National Catholic Group with Chapters on most secular and non-Catholic Campuses throughout the United States. It tries to instill greater knowledge and appreciation of the Catholic religion in college students by binding them together and making them more active and conscientious Christians.

The Newman Club at C. C. C. C. meets monthly either within the school building or at the Beachwood Inn. The officers for the 1963-64 year consisted of John MacPherson, President; Angela Gomes, Vice President; Martha Dreddy, Treasurer; and Maureen Osborne, Secretary.

Student Senate

Our student government is made up of representatives from the counseling groups. The senate's aims are to promote the general welfare of the college, to assist in forming the policy for the student activities program, to serve as a medium of communication between the student body and the faculty, to provide a forum for student expression, to assist in providing orderly direction of college activities, and to work with the community.

The senate is also involved in duties of a lighter nature. In September, during registration, the senate sponsored a dance at which the freshmen could get acquainted.

Each semester we are privileged to be honored students who have obtained excellence in their grades. The requirements for the Dean's List are to obtain at least an average of 3.0, an equivalent of five subjects. The students who are able to meet these requirements do so by perseverance and study, but find it well worth the time and toil. The Dean's List is truly a position of honor, for to be a college student is one thing, but to excel academically is a greater achievement.

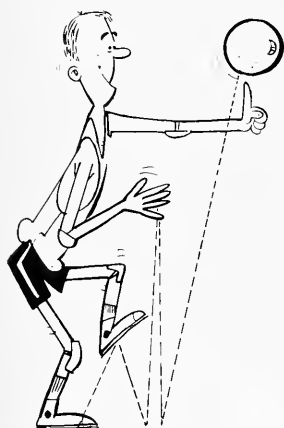

Early in the second semester this year, Cape Cod Community College gained a voice. Three students, under the advisorship of Mr. Clark, arranged for and produced a half-hour radio show called "Community College Close-Up." Each week Sally Jensen, Ed Wilhelms, and Dan Flynn discussed topics of interest to the college and the community.

Cape Cod Community College seeks among other things to develop the body as well as the mind.

Year after year our sports program increases, with more participants and more variety. The College provides equal opportunity for both male and female students.

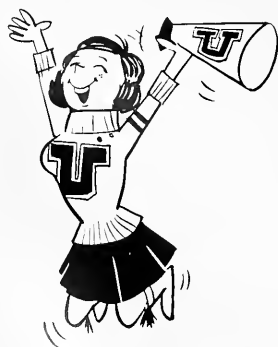

Four C's excels in basketball, and has proven over and over again, that despite the limited size of our college we are not limited in ability.

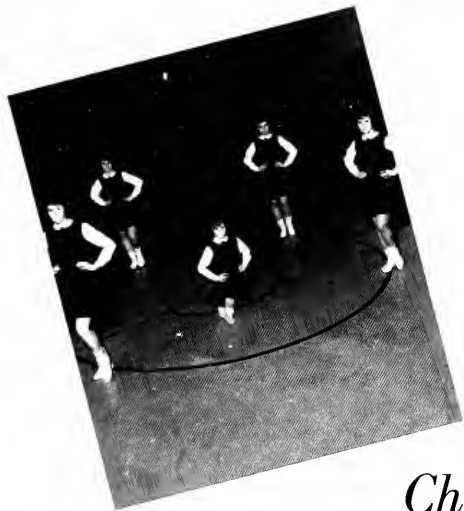

Our boys have had a successful season, and our girls, despite the lack of participants, have been able to secure a winning average.

Our program consists of touch football, intramural basketball, wrestling, bowling, ping-pong, badminton, baseball, weight-lifting, softball and swimming.

We look to the future in which more facilities will be available, so that we might broaden our sports horizon.

November 22 was a fateful day, a day of grief and sorrow at the news that our beloved president had been assassinated. The nation mourns its great loss, but the Cape feels the distress more deeply than anyone. The Cape was Kennedy's home. It was here that he fled from the stress of his position to enjoy the relaxation and beauty of life. It was here that he shed his official cloak and became the warm, sincere person that he was.

We, the students grieve even more, because he so often emphasized the necessity of proper education. He did everything in his power to boost the educational opportunities.

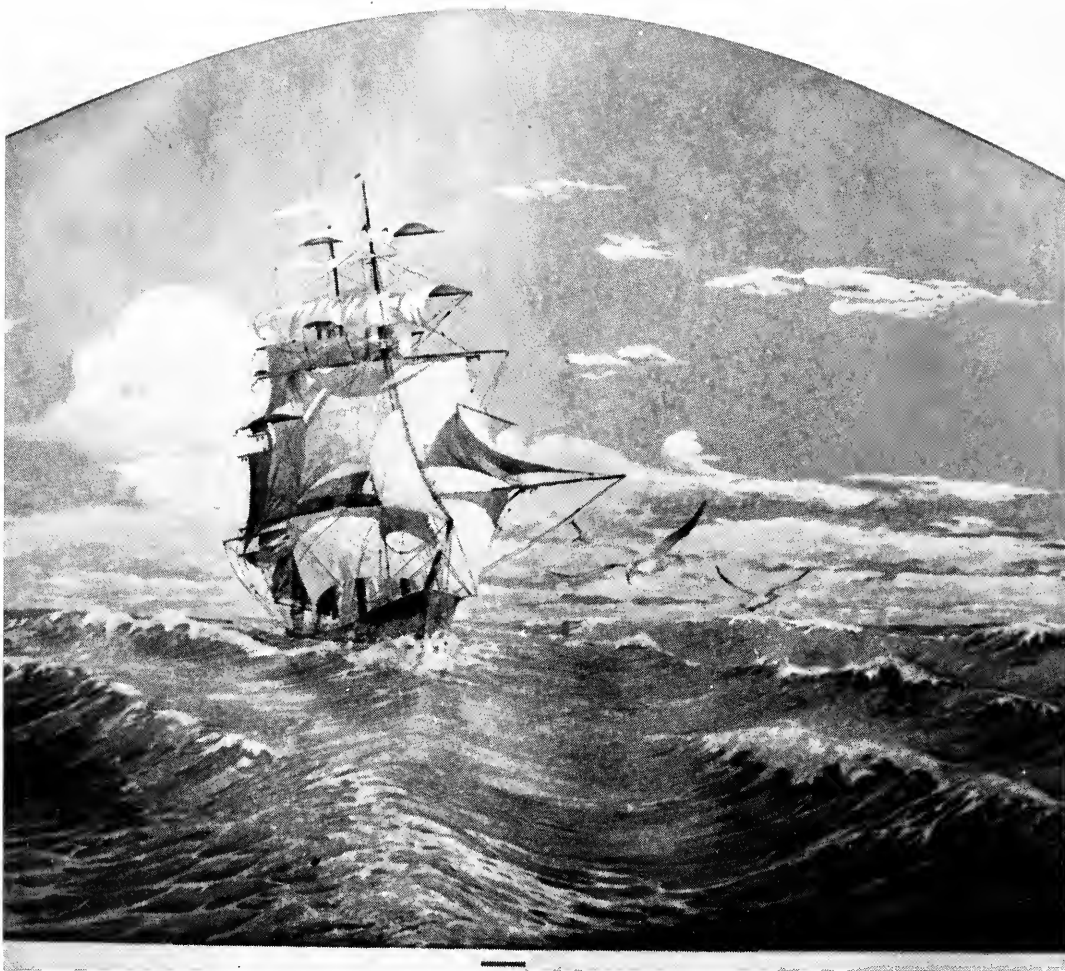

His ideals and values will stand as an example for all time.

“Dorm” Life (!)

This page compliments of CHARLIE'S VARIETY STORE, Barnstable Rd., Hyannis, Mass.

Cape Cod Community College reflects the influence of the sea which surrounds it on nearly all sides. From the student commons one looks out on the panorama of Lewis Bay. The brisk sea breezes and early morning fog are constant reminder of the water nearby. And opposite the main entrance is one of the most effective reminder, this beautiful painting of the Red Jacket in full sail.

Who brought the marshmallows?

This is a poor substitute for cards

Please don't hit me again

Bingo!

Did you hear the one about the farmer's daughter?

Two hamburgers and a coke, please.

Ban takes the worry out of being close.

But the hot dogs must be done by now.

Welcome to Bullwinkles corner.

Hope they don't pull out the plug.

I wish he'd leave the room.

Thank God this day's over.

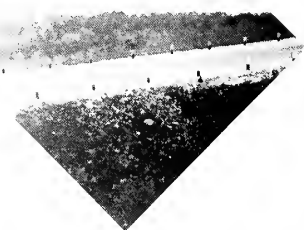

A dog's life!

Hey! Stop shoving.

See what I mean?
